Adam Daniel - Re-Recording Mixer - Filmography

After graduating in 1999 with a degree in Software Systems for the Arts and Media I started work in the sound department at Shepperton Studios.

In 2000 I became a Re-Recording Mixer. Each film had its own challenges and opportunities to learn more about film, technology and the art of mixing.

In 2005 we started an Audio Post Production company called Point1Post. It offers a range of services including a Dolby approved mixing stage, complete sound packages and my availability as a freelance Re-Recording Mixer.

I have now mixed more than 100 feature films. Many of these have enjoyed both critical and commercial success around the world.
